How to write an outline

- I. An outline is a summary of something
 - II. Each item in an outline should be a word or a phrase NOT a sentence or a paragraph
 - III. The title of the outline goes at the top center of the paper
 - IV. Numbers, Letters, and Indentations
 - A. The first level has Roman Numerals (I, II, III...)
 - B. The second level has capital letters (A, B, C...)
 - C. The third level is Arabic numbers (1, 2, 3...)
 - D. The fourth level is lower case letters (a, b, c...)
 - E. Each level is indented beyond the previous
 - V. Grouping occurs in pairs
 - A. There is never a I without a II
 - B. There is never an A without a B
 - C. This applies to all levels of the outline
 - VI. Outlines get more specific as you go down another level. A I is more general than an A
 - VII. Capitalization and Punctuation
 - A. Capitalize the first word in each line
 - B. Do not use periods because these are not sentences or paragraphs
 - VIII. Always include your introduction and conclusion
- Outline of Biographical Research Paper

*Number each of your note cards.
*Anything written in bold, you can write exactly.
*Your card numbers and subtopics may be different.
*You do not need to write out the information on the cards into your outline unless it specifically says to.
*Be sure to indent each level.

The body of the book report should Describe the characters of the book, the purpose of the book and the plot. You could trace the experience of a character throughout the book, analyze a reason or a theme of the book, or compare the experience of one character with another. Link to the thesis - Describe at least a specific way the text of the book supports your thesis. Support details - Add support information from the book and your interpretation of it to support your case. Citters some specific examples of the book that support yours Thesis. Closing - "Look how well I supported my thesis!" Don't write it, you will get into trouble. But this is the sense of what a closing phrase should reach. The conclusion of a relationship of there BR transmits effectively how the document has faced the points raised in the introduction. It should summarize the important points, mention what you learned from the book, and declare whether you would recommend it or not. REFLECT - This is not as general as the universal declaration, but the reflection is close. For example, "despite its racist language and the limitations of the time, the message of Huckleberry Finn ..." Summarize highlights - Summarize the salient points of your main topic (i), attacking with a few short and concise phrases. Think about your conclusion as the last minutes of class; Wrap this so that everyone can get to lunch. Extending the declaration of thesis - Stay your thesis, but with an additional phrase on Clé which makes it important. For example, "by writing an anti -racist book in one time racist, mark twain both chronicled their experiences and linked it with ours."
